GOLDEN-ROD STAKES.

Sheepshead Bay. SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE-TRACK. September 2.-The race for the Golden Rod Stakes, for 2-year-olds, at seven furongs, was the attraction on the card ...013010000-5 here to-day. Two fast colts and one fast turned up in Typhoon H., the favorite, who defeated Princess Flavia by a length and a haif. Burlesque finished three lengths behind the Princess. A good-sized crowd witnessed the races, and the track was in excellent condition.

First race-five furlougs—Miss Prim (4 to 1) won, Confession second, and Hally Roo third. Time, 1:02.2-5.

Reo third, Time, 1:022-5. Second race-five furlongs—Kentucky Belle (3 to 1) won, with Yankee Heiress second, and Numersel third. Time, Third race-handicap: one Third race-handicap; one mile-Roundsman 6 to 2) won, with Hazlett second, and Ramiro third. Time, 1:454-5. Fourth race-Golden-Hod Stakes, for 2-year-olds; seven furlongs, on turf-Ty-thoon II. (4 to 5) won, with Princess Flavia second, and Burlesque third. Time.

Fifth race-mile and three-sixteenths heat: Sherlock @ to 19) won, with Strath-reel second, and Aurelian third. Time, 1151-5. Second heat: Sherlock (7 to 19) won, with Song and Dance second, and Strathreel third. Time, 136. Seventh race—High-Weight Handicap; one mile, on turf—Ferrier (3 to 1) won, with Lockout second, and Str Francis third. Time, 1:422-5.

GENTRY DEFEATS ROBERT J. NEW YORK, September 2.-In the resence of 8.000 spectators at Fleetwood Pointer, winning the most remarkable harness race on record and pacing three heats in 2003-4, 2001-4, and 2001-4, the finitest time ever known for three consecutive miles.

The weather was chilly, and a stiff breeze retarded the horses in the home stretch, no that the conditions were not all favorable for fast time. The absence of Joe Patchen from the contest detracted somewhat from public interest in the race, but it was a great race from every point of view. The competing horses were the fastest of their kind in the world, and all were at their best.
Robert J. was, of course, a red-hot favorite in the betting before the start, 3 to 10 being the best odds obtainable, while John R. Gentry was at 4 to 1.

SEABOARD AIR-LINE GIVES T. P. A. MEN 2,000-MILE BOOKS.

A VICTORY FOR THE DRUMMER BOYS. A Meeting of Post A Yesterday-Res. olutions of Thanks Passed-Benefits Both the Commercial Men and the Railroads.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of Post A, Virginia Division, Travellers' Protective Association of America, held at the office of Colonel John S. Harwood at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. for the purpose of acting on the decision of the Scaboard Air-Line in making a 2,000-mile book rate of 2 cents per mile. The Chesapeake and Ohio Raliway Company made this concession several years ago, and the 2,000-mile interchangeable book is in use, not only on its line, but on forty-seven other systems in the West and Northwest. This action of the Seaboard Air-Line means much to the travelpreciation of the influence and power o the great organization that has, through its working committees and officers, nullifled and defeated the license law, which imposed upon commercial travellets an cupation tax, and which subjected them to the same espoinage that criminals are compelled to submit to; which secured a decision of the Supreme Court of the special free-busses.

This work of the Travellers put millions of dollars in the treasuries of the various transportation lines throughout the country.

WHAT THEY WANTED. WHAT THEY WANTED.

During the last Travellers' Protective Association Convention at Terre Haute. Ind., the Chicago Tribune wired President Lee as follows: "What do commercial travellers want from railroads, and why should they have it?" In reply. President Lee telegraphed the Tribune as follows: "They want an interchangenble included in the territory of the Central Passenger Committee, to be sold at 2 cents per mile, and strictly non-transferable, and a similar ticket in the territory of each of the other passenger assos of the United States. They want the friendship, co-operative sympathy, and active and considerate all of the rail-road companies in building up and developing the commerce of this country, including an extension of its railroad fa-cilities. They should have all these, be-cause they are professional promoters of the prosperity of the people, and the most economical, prompt, and practical medium of exchange between all the people for the products of their labor; because they are the recognized representatives of commerce and its great upbuilding and civilizing power, and are as essential to civilizing power, and are as essential to the prosperity and growth of railroad interests as the railroads are to theirs; they are practically and constantly act-ing as freight solicitors for the railroads, ing as freight solicitors for the railroads, and, at the same time, paying the railroads militons of dollars for the privilege of so acting; and, because the rate of 2 cents per mile asked for is not unreasonable, for most roads have been making the rate for many years. Fourteen-year-old Charley Robertson foot-sore and ragged, after walking from Kenova, W. Va., to Christiansburg, In this State, at last broke down and is now being cared for by kind-hearted people in that old Virginia town. The lad lived in Kenova until his widowed mother died, leaving him an orphan without a home or a friend. The only one the boy knew of to whom he could one the boy knew of to whom he could look for subsistence was his uncle, Mr. Samuel Miller, who, the lad thought, lived in Richmond. So he commenced the long tramp to this city, his way leading him through the wildest portion of West Virginia, where the mountainous country was thinly settled. The boy was kindly treated, however, by the farmers and townsfolk as he went from one place. and townsfolk as he went from one place to another, and his journey was made as pleasant as possible. When he arrivad at Christiansburg the boy's shoes were in tatters, and his bruised and bleeding feet were on the ground.

His Reason for Avoiding Western States-Our Anti-Chinese Laws.

NEW YORK, September 2.-By previous Ambassador, this morning received a limpress in his apartments at the Waldorf. The newspaper men were presented to the Viceroy by Mr. Edward E. Drew, Commissioner of Royal Taxes in China. The Viceroy's medical adviser, Dr. Mark, acted as interpreter.

Among the questions asked Li was this, "Was the route of your return home through Canada decided upon because of any antagonism that might assert itself among the people of the Pacific coast States." press in his apartments at the Waldorf.

among the people of the Pacific coast States?"

The Viceroy called for his official interpreter, Lo Fung Lou, to whom he made the following reply: The choice of the Canadian route was detarmined on for two reasons: First, while I was High Commissioner of the northern portion of China I received many complaints from our Chinese subjects in this country that they were not in possession of the rights to which they were entitled here, and they invoked my assistance to secure for them their full rights. Your laws here now curtailed these rights, and I did not care to go through the States where the people had been most instrumental in bringing about these restricting laws. Second, while I am a good sailor, I am an old man, and I have been informed that the steamers sailing from Vancouver are much more comfortable than those leaving San Francisco."

The question that brought the reception to an end was, "Has your visit to this country any political significance?"

The Viceroy made no attempt at diplomacy in evaling an answer to this question. He simply declared that he had no more time to devote to the newspaper men, and the interview was closed.

Later in the day the Viceroy was received at the City Hall by Mayor Strong, and afterwards he took a differ through Brooklyn, visiting the Plaza at Prospect Park, the City Hall, the nasy-yard, and
